

Campbell

Campbell: Good morning friends! Did I... inter... rupt something?

Darnell: No. You didn't we were just discussing your living arrangements here and the duration of those said arrangements.

Campbell: Well I really appreciate you guys for having me here but I may be here for a couple weeks.

Darnell & Bridgette: Couple weeks?!

Campbell: Yeah, Nina changed the locks on me, and as far as I'm concerned I'm done trying.

Bridgette: Campbell, don't say that.

Campbell: But I mean it. It takes two ... you know... (sings) it take two to make a thing go right, it takes two to make it outta sight."

Darnell: (Laughs) You know my uncle Donnie, if he were here he would say, "Boy, hush that talk. It takes three to make a marriage work. You, your wife, and the Ghost, the Holy Ghost. You'll need the ghost for the flesh that'll rise up against your commitment to your wife. (Laughs)

Campbell: That's pretty good.

AND

Campbell: (Interrupts) Hey Nina

Nina: Hi Campbell

Campbell: How are you doing?

Nina: I'm tired, I work all the time, I pay all the bills... I need you to get a job and help me out... that's how I feel. (she walks back out)

Uncle Donnie: Brutha, I don't think I've ever seen anything like that before. How you feel right now.

Campbell: Uncle Donnie I don't know. I love her but I'm tired of her. Uncle Donnie, Nina and I haven't been on the best of terms lately, because I've been unemployed for a year and a half now. I'm looking but I've been unsuccessful in finding work... Nina is the only one working and she thinks I can work miracles... I can't get a job unless they hire me.

Uncle Donnie: What you both need is the GHOST.

Darnell: Uncle Donnie really?!

Campbell: Uncle Donnie I'm saved but I don't think the Ghost can fix Nina.
